One
Love

The young and idealistic Doga has her whole life ahead of her, full of dreams and ambitions, as she begins her first year at university in the powerful drama “One Love”. Having grown up under the influence of her strong-willed mother, Kivilcim, she sees herself following in her footsteps with a successful career. The path she takes will surprise them both when she meets the handsome and charming Fatih at the college gates.

Kivilcim, a high school principal, has a strict character hardened by the experience of raising her two daughters alone after her husband left her. Her determination to give them a solid upbringing has led sometimes to her failing to show them enough love. But her desire for them to have happy and successful lives is her motivation, shaped by an uncompromising belief in modern and secular values.

These values are tested to the core when Doga meets Fatih, who comes from a devout family. Unlike his friends who want to enjoy carefree flings with no strings attached, he seeks a serious relationship. At first sight, he is convinced that Doga is the woman for him. While the feeling is mutual, Kivilcim is not impressed by Fatih and dismisses their relationship as a passing infatuation.

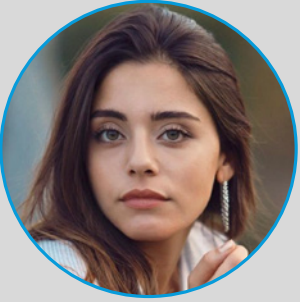

Their romance and Doga’s life are transformed the day she discovers she is pregnant. Kivilcim is horrified, believing that having a baby at 20 will wreck her daughter’s life. She convinces Doga to have an abortion despite Fatih’s excitement at what he sees as a gift from God. When Doga disappears on the day of the abortion appointment, Kivilcim is driven crazy by fear.

That night, Doga and Fatih appear hand in hand on her doorstep and announce that they have got married, leaving Kivilcim devastated and furious at her daughter. Even if it is against her wishes though, she has no choice other than to accept their marriage. The scale of the challenge ahead becomes clear when the two families meet.

Fatih’s family is religiously conservative; his mother Firdevs wears a headscarf and his father Abdullah prays five times a day, while his siblings are also devout. Kivilcim does not make a scene on the night of their meeting, instead waiting until morning to tell Doga that she believes her relationship with Fatih is doomed, given the insurmountable differences between the two families.

With family strains at times bringing them close to breaking up, they face an uphill battle if their love is to outweigh the burden of a powerful culture clash. The situation puts Kivilcim to the test, triggering changes in her attitudes that surprise her and those around her. A complex love story emerges in the meeting of two families, who are worlds apart but share the same deep truths.
